

GERMANY CALLS HANS DIECKHOFF TO RETURN TO BERLIN

It Is Stated On Good Authority
That Ambassador Will Not Return Until Wilson Does

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

The Affair Is No More Than A
"Normal Diplomatic Procedure"

By Pierre J. Huss
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Hans Dieckhoff, German ambassador to Washington, was summoned today to return to Berlin.

It was stated on good authority that it can be taken for granted Ambassador Dieckhoff will not return to Washington until Ambassador Wilson returns to Berlin.

Official quarters carefully avoided use of "retaliation" or "rupture of relations" in connection with the orders sent to the Reich envoy.

Despite official statements that the affair is no more than a "normal diplomatic procedure," it was clear that anti-American sentiment in Germany has heightened considerably during the past few days as a result of Reich press attacks against America.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Strained American diplomatic relations with Germany were brought to a further dangerous tautness today, as the Nazi government called German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff home.

In official circles here, the move was not regarded as a definite recall, but was viewed in the same light as President Roosevelt's summons to Ambassador Hugh Wilson to return to Washington for "reports and consultations on the Nazi mistreatment of racial and religious minorities."

LE HAVRE, France, Nov. 18.—Hugh Wilson, United States Ambassador to Germany, flatly announced today that he will return to Berlin in a month.

The announcement was made as he sailed for New York on the liner Manhattan. He denied that his departure from Germany amounted to a breach of diplomatic relations.

State Police Seek 11 Others In Garrett Estate Case

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—With four members of the alleged "Sheaffer conspiracy ring" already under arrest, State Motor Police today sought 11 other persons on warrants charging fraud in connection with their claims to the $200,000 Garrett snuff fortune.

Christian Harold Sheaffer, 40, of Newark, Del., was the fourth member of the clan to be arrested on charges on conspiracy to present "perjured, fraudulent and forged evidence." A warrant was served on the surprised Sheaffer as he waited in City Hall to post $5,000 bail for his father, Isaac Newton Sheaffer, 65-year-old claimant.

The older Sheaffer, who claimed to be an illegitimate son of the late Henrietta E. Garrett, and his son, held in $25,000 bail, were released on a bond provided by Mrs. Ida Sheaffer Gassner, sister of the older Sheaffer. Christian was committed by Judge Harry S. McDevitt at request of Special Deputy Attorney General Thomas J. Minnick, Jr., representing the Commonwealth in escheat proceedings.

Meanwhile Grace Sheaffer, 54, of Penfield, Isaac's sister and reputed "mastermind" of the case, and her cousin, Mrs. Mary E. Suter, 62, of Lancaster, spent their second night in Moyamensing Prison, unable to raise $25,000 and $5,000 bail respectively. Further hearings for all four members on the Sheaffer clan on two conspiracy charges carrying possible sentence of two years' imprisonment on conviction of each count, were set for Nov. 25.

Appearing for the State, Alfred Cohn, a German refugee now living in Lancaster, testified he was paid a $5 fee to enter false records in an old German script in a family Bible. Cohn said newspaper accounts in a Harrisburg paper that "an old family Bible made him conscious of his connection with the case."

REPUBLICANS PREDICT SENATE REORGANIZATION

Claim They Will Elect A President Pro Tem of The Upper House

HINT AT "DEAL" MADE

By Raymond Wilcox
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Republican leaders today predicted that they would not only control a voting majority in the 1939 Pennsylvania Senate but would also organize the upper chamber and elect a president pro tem. The new Senate lineup is 26 Democrats and 24 Republicans.

Advised that 25 Democratic Senators had signed a round-robin pledge to stick together on January 3 when the new Senate will be organized, a prominent Republican leader, hinting at a "deal" remarked:

"Nevertheless, we shall organize the Senate, elect a president pro tem, and thus control all standing committees. Wait and see."

The Democratic round-robin pledge was not signed by Sen. Weldon Hayburn, Delaware Democrat, an independent Republican elected on a Democratic ticket. Democratic leaders, however, expect Democratic Lt.-Gov. Thomas Kennedy, presiding officer of the Senate, who does not go out of office until January 17, to cast the deciding vote which would break a 25-25 tie occasioned by Hayburn's defection.

But, should a Democratic Senator become "conveniently" ill on January 3 and be unable to attend, the Republicans would have sufficient votes with Hayburn's support to organize the Senate.

On the same day the Democratic round-robin pledge was signed Republican state chairman James F. Torraine told a gathering of Republican women at Harrisburg that the Republicans would organize the Senate despite the nominal 26-24 majority held by the Democrats. In substance, said Torraine, this Democratic lead had been overcome.

Should the Republican intimations of a "deal" with one or more Democratic senators be borne out and the Republicans organize the Senate it would throw into their hands the rich Senate patronage and deprive the Democrats of their last bid of legislative control. The Republicans would then control the entire State government with the exception of the offices of treasurer and auditor-general, held by Democrats whose terms do not expire until May 1941. In addition, the Democrats regain control of the Department of Internal Affairs until May 1939 when the term of Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A. Logue, defeated for re-election, expires.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Family arguments are all right in their place, Justice of the Peace Neal Nolan, of Morrisville, agreed, but when a married couple try to settle their grievances on the city streets—well, that constitutes disorderly conduct.

The family spat, which caused a flurry of excitement in the center of Morrisville, was a verbal battle between David Shapiro, Trenton saloon keeper, and his estranged wife, Fannie.

The irate Mrs. Shapiro told Squire Nolan she had trailed her husband across the river and discovered he was withdrawing some money from the Morrisville National Bank.

"That," she told Nolan, "was because he was intending to slip out on me and flee to Florida."

In an attempt to prevent any such flight, Mrs. Shapiro plunked herself on the running board of Mr. Shapiro's car and refused to get off. He drove a block up the street, with Mrs. Shapiro still on the running board, and then stopped. A scuffle ensued, bringing a crowd of interested passersby and Chief of Police Albert Cooper to the scene. The latter arrested the couple for disorderly conduct.

At a hearing Squire Nolan fined each of the defendants $5. Shapiro, who said he lived at 388 South Warren street, paid his fine and left. His wife, who gave her address as 297 South Broad street, had to wait until relatives could be contacted to pay her fine.

"The situation in Palestine is just another case of British mismanagement," declared Spurgeon B. Wuertemberger, a member of the faculty of the Doylestown schools, in an excellent address on Egypt, at the weekly dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Doylestown at the Doylestown Inn.

The guest speaker, whose time was limited, but who promised to make a return trip at some future date, spent four years teaching in Egypt in the American University before returning to the United States last year. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and was connected with the Carnegie Institute Foundation in Egypt.

Probably no other Kiwanis speaker in recent months gave a more interesting discussion of a timely topic than Mr. Wuertemberger.

MORRISVILLE AWAITS BUILDING APPROVAL

General State Authority Has Not Sold Any of Bonds,
One Reason Given

OTHER SCHOOL NEWS

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 18.—Interested residents are anxiously awaiting final approval of the proposed addition to the Robert Morris school and the new four-room building at Capitol View.

The approval has not been forthcoming. It is reported to school directors, because the General State Authority, having charge of the new school building program, hasn't sold any of its bonds. Another reason given is the question of the constitutionality of the Thompson Act, which makes it possible for the school districts to carry on the building program without the outlay of any funds immediately.

The routine medical examination of pupils in elementary grades, has been completed by the school physician, Dr. James M. Klenk, and he will soon commence examination of high school pupils. The physician is also making his inspection of school buildings.

The pupils again will be given hearing tests by the audiometer made available by the State Department of Public Instruction. Miss Dorothy Gish will make these tests.

Announcement has also been made of the transfer of two school janitors, William Schofield, Sr., has been transferred from the Manor Park School to the Robert Morris building, and Mark Morrell has been sent from the Robert Morris school to the Manor Park buildings.

Fire Chief Frank Miller submitted to the school directors a comprehensive report on the fire drills and inspection of all school buildings he directed during fire protection week.

Announcement was made that the American Legion Auxiliary will present a flag to the school for the new athletic field when the latter is completed. The WPA project for the laying of sidewalks, curbs and gutters around the new athletic field and the erection of a grandstand have been returned for the approval of the local school board.

The fence around the field and another around the track have been erected and work will be started on the enclosure for the tennis courts.

LATEST NEWS ---- Received by International News Service Leased Wires.

During the evening, persons living in various sections of the township were requested to submit ideas concerning the zoning of the district. These suggestions will be taken into consideration by the zoning committee, and at a meeting to be held at the home of Charles A. Rowe on Tuesday evening, November 22nd, the plans will be submitted to the road board for approval. Later it will be necessary to hold a public hearing on them.

Attendance at the combination sale held on the property of the Rice brothers, at Solebury, was much larger than usual, approximately 2200 persons having been on the grounds. Proceeds of the sale, which was featured by large disposals of poultry and hogs, amounted to $3230. The sale of the poultry alone amounted to $1868. Although the offering of poultry was quite heavy, almost all of it was sold. The sale of hogs also was quite brisk. About 175 head were offered and almost all of them were sold.

The top price paid for chickens was 23 cents a pound for barred rock chickens. Turkeys moved rather slowly, buyers seeming reluctant to pay the desired prices. Turkey hens brought from 28 to 30 cents a pound and young toms from 26 to 28 cents a pound. Small turkeys sold for 24 cents a pound.

Bristol Rotarians Meet With Morrisville Club

Bristol Rotarians journeyed to the Lehigh Farms yesterday when they were entertained by the Morrisville Rotary Club in a joint meeting. The program was under the direction of Walter De Lashmuit, president of the Morrisville club.

A large attendance from both clubs was on hand to enjoy almost two hours of entertainment provided by a well-known hypnotist. Following this show the groups joined in club singing.

Announcement was made that there will be no meeting of the Bristol Rotary Club next Thursday because of the holiday. The Club Assembly will meet, however, on the evening of November 28th, at the home of the president, Lester D. Thorne.

Birthdays of the following were celebrated: Louise Smoyer, Carolyn Betz, Samuel Fite and Headley Warner.

LR. BUCKS REPUBLICANS TO HOLD PARADE HERE

Big Demonstration is Being Planned for Monday Evening

INVITE ALL TO PARADE

Republicans throughout Bucks County have been conducting victory parades and on Monday evening a parade for Republicans of Lower Bucks County is to be staged in Bristol. This affair, which is in celebration of the victory at the election held November 8th, is being sponsored by the Bristol Young Republican Club.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Republicans to join in the celebration and make it a great success.

There will be plenty of music and lots of red fire. Visiting delegations are to be assigned to a special division and there will be a division for floats, one for decorated automobiles and then one for undecorated automobiles.

A committee met last night and discussed the arrangements in detail and these are expected to be announced shortly.

Republicans of the area adjacent to Bristol are invited to join with the Bristol Republicans. The parade will form at 7:30 at Wilson avenue and Garfield street.

The parade will move out Hayes street to Farragut avenue, Pond street, Jefferson avenue, Radcliffe street, Mill street, Bath street, Buckley street to Beaver street, Walnut street and dismiss in front of the mills of the Thomas L. Leedom Company.

The committee announces that eight floats have been promised for the occasion by various Republican organizations. There will be at least four musical organizations.

Senator-elect Howard I. James will be the marshal.

Exchange Club President Guest of The Bristol Club

Last evening the Bristol Exchange Club gave over its meeting to Norman Houk, state president of the Exchange. Mr. Houk told of the really remarkable growth of the club in Pennsylvania during the past year and discussed the various ways in which the clubs were rendering service to their communities. Last night's meeting was held at the Elks' home here.

During 1938, Mr. Houk said, the membership in this state increased from about 500 to 1500. There are 40 clubs in all. Most of them are in the smaller cities, where the ideas of Exchange can find their greatest range of usefulness. There are, however, clubs in Pittsburgh, Erie and in various sections of Philadelphia. The national membership is about 80,000.

"Of all the clubs I visit," said Mr. Houk, "I like the Bristol the best, except my own Frankford club, of course. You seem to have a family spirit here that is outstanding, and you make an outsider feel right at home. And you are doing things. I think your project of supplying glasses to needy school children is one of the finest things I have found anywhere. In fact it is the very essence of the spirit of service in Exchange."

Next Tuesday the Young Men's Club of Burlington will be the guests of the Bristol Exchange. About 25 of them are expected. The speaker will be Harvey Geiger, a law associate of Paul Forster, Esq. Mr. Geiger has spent considerable time lately in Germany and Austria, and was in Vienna when the Nazis took it over. He will discuss the present state of things in those countries. The meeting of the clubs will be in the Methodist Church dining hall, where the choir will serve the dinner.

Mill Street Association Opposes One-Way Traffic

At the special meeting of the Mill Street Business Men's Association and property owners of Mill street, at Ye Olde Delaware House, a general discussion was held on the traffic problems of Mill street.

The group went on record as not favoring the suggested one-way traffic for the street. A majority of the persons present believed that other plans could be substituted to work out the problems.

The group also heard a report of the Christmas Committee of the Association on the progress made toward the annual Christmas program to be staged for Bristol and surrounding towns.

Santa Claus will come to Bristol again this year. The street will be gaily decorated with colored lights. Special lighting will be added to further enhance the appearance of the business section. More turkeys will also be given away this season. Chairman David Norman urged that all members co-operate to make this the finest celebration yet staged in this town.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL

The greatest cast of youngsters to be assembled in Hollywood this season will be seen in Paramount's American youth story, "Sons of the Legion," when it opens today at the Bristol Theatre. They play leading roles in a drama centering about the influence of a newly-formed junior Legion upon the boys of a typical American city.

Donald O'Connor, whose performance as the kid brother of Bing Crosby and Fred MacMurray in "Sing You Sinners" gave him star rating, heads the cast of the picture. He is a heart-moving figure as the criminally-inclined ragamuffin, who turns into a new person when the "folks on the other side of the railroad tracks" take him in hand and prove to him that the advantages of America do not belong exclusively to any particular group in the population.

Billy Lee and Billy Cook also play prominent roles as the brothers whose father forbids them to join the "Sons of the Legion" due to an unfortunate experience he has undergone during the War. Billy Lee, one of the youngest "veteran" players in Hollywood, will be remembered best for his role as Fred MacMurray's mascot and tramp-drummer in the recent "Coconut Grove." Also cast as one of the "Junior Legionnaires" is Benny Bartlett, a boy who had his first stage role at the age of ten days and has been a trouper ever since. His Hollywood radio program, on which he sang his own songs, won him a screen contract and roles in "The Texas Rangers," "Maid of Salem" and "Exclusive."

GRAND

Claire Trevor rode a handcar to work one day last May. She and Wayne Morris boarded it at the little lumber town of Cranell, 20 miles north of Eureka, Calif., and went along over high trestles and rough track into the heart of a redwood forest.

There was a reason for their taking this strange conveyance. The company filming the Warner Bros. Technicolor production of "Valley of the Giants," which opened Thursday at the Grand Theatre was shooting scenes that day on a spur of the Hammond Lumber Company railroad, and the only way to get there was by rail or by foot.

If Miss Trevor had been called at five o'clock, she could have gone by freight car. That's the way the crew, Director William Keighley and Cinematographer Sol Polito went. But she preferred to sleep until seven and hop the handcar.

CARDINALS TO PLAY NEWTOWN XI HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Grid Season is Now Drawing
To A Close Among The School Teams

TURKEY DAY CLASSIC

Interesting Games Are Scheduled For the Next Two Weeks

With the old pigskin sport coming down the back stretch and into the final two games of the season before the curtain falls upon another campaign, Lower Bucks schools will confine their activity in these last pair of tilts to conference and Alumni games.

Of the seven games in the two weeks, five will be league tussles, three of which will be the big Turkey Day classics, while the other two are on the card for this afternoon, Bristol Newtown, Langhorne and Morrisville will spend the last two weeks engaging big conference rivals, as the title chase comes into the spotlight to determine a winner.

Morrisville and Langhorne, and Bristol and Newtown, will clash this afternoon as the clubs open their final bid for the championship, which should take on a definite shape following these contests. The only other two schools not engaging with loop foes are Bensalem and Fallsington, both of whom will tackle their respective Alumni Associations on the morrow. Then they will meet each other in their annual Thanksgiving Day affair, which will be held the day before Thanksgiving this year.

Out in Langhorne, the invading Morrisville Bulldogs will run up against the strongest outfit they have yet faced in conference competition when they meet the Langhorne Redskins.

Up on the local high school field, the Cardinals are engaged for a clash with the invading Newtown Indians in the first meeting of the two clubs in seven years.

In both the Alumni games, the varsity boys failed to register a victory last year, although the Owls succeeded in gaining a 7-7 tie, while Fallsington went down, 8-0, in good close ball games with plenty of action. And such it will be again when the varsity meets the old grads tomorrow.

Up in Fallsington, the steadily improving Falcons are set for their Alumni and with a much better club this year than that which represented them last year, the boys of Coach Mike DeRisi should be able to avenge the 1937 setback in this fracas by taking their old mates for their initial victory of the present season.

"RECS" TO DEFEND HONOR IN GAME WITH ST. ANN'S

Tickets for the annual St. Ann's A. A. Bristol Rees football game will go on sale Saturday afternoon.

The tilt will be played on the Bristol High School field, Thanksgiving Day afternoon, starting at 2:15 p. m.

The largest crowd to witness an independent game in this section is expected to attend the game which ended in a victory for the Bristol Rees, 10-0, last season.

By virtue of this triumph, the Rees claimed the Lower Bucks County championship and are defending it against the Purple and Gold on the above mentioned day.

HULMEVILLE

"Sunshine bags" were distributed to members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in session at the home of Mrs. Hugh B. Webster, Wednesday evening. These will be filled with useful items and sent to invalid soldiers and sailors in hospitals. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Joseph O. Canby, president, with devotional period in charge of Miss Clara L. Hilck. Mrs. Canby reported the points of interest which transpired at the county executive meeting held in Newtown on November 5th. The topic of the evening, "Sabbath Observance," was presented by Mrs. Edward Davis. Refreshments were served by the hostess, the group then adjourning to meet on December 14th at the residence of the president.

Phila. Educator Speaks To The Cornwells P. T. A.

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 18.—An address by a Philadelphia educator, a pantomime by the junior dramatic club, orchestral selections and vocal solo, were included in the program presented following a short business meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in Bensalem Township high school last evening.

Following transaction of business, with Mrs. Roscoe Perkins in charge, Raymond Watkins led the group singing. Attendance banner was won by Miss Emily Schroeder's 12th grade, with John Bixler's sixth grade a close second; tie for third place being secured by classes of the Misses Jane Koehler and Rae Komenarski. The senior play on December 2nd, "It Never Rains," was announced by a member of that class, Eugene Snyder.

Humphrey Henry, president of Peirce School, Philadelphia, spoke on the subject of education and the co-operation of parents, pupils and teachers. He also gave some poems pertaining to education.

The pantomime by the junior dramatic club, with Axel Kleinsorg in charge, was participated in by the Misses Gladys Cragg, Betty Rahn, and Ruth Workman; and Messrs. Robert Winchester, Roy Silcox and Robert Reed.

Miss Amelia Sullivan recited "Lilacs" for which she won first place in the Cultural Olympics at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, recently.

Vocal numbers by Mrs. Roth, and orchestra selections were much enjoyed.

A bake sale, which followed, benefited the Girls Leader Club.

Bensalem Republicans

Stage Big Celebrations

Bensalem Republicans had their night last night when they staged one of the biggest victory celebrations and parades on record for the Township. Literally every section of the Township was visited by the motor caravan which was estimated to have exceeded 350 cars and trucks in number, and which was strung out along the highways for well over a mile.

Leading the parade, which started at Trevoe, was a large float with a huge model of an elephant. Sound truck equipment furnished music and occupants of the cars had their own noise-makers. Trucks with large drums tied on furnished more noise.

After winding in and out over the towns of the upper end of the Township the parade of gaily decorated cars, trucks and floats moved on to Bridgewater, Eddington, Cornwells, Andalusia, Torresdale Manor and then continued north over Street Road. Some of the local Democratic leaders were hung in effigy on the rear of the cars.

So large was the parade and so joyful were the paraders that the celebration was said to have been heard in adjoining towns in the Township. When the parade hit Bristol Pike many motorists pulled off the side of the road to watch the procession and people stood on front porches or looked out windows all along the line of march to witness the huge spectacle. It was truly a victory parade.

Color and Its Appeal Is Subject For The Sorosis

LANGHORNE, Nov. 18.—An art exhibit and a talk on color and its application to everyday life, featured the guest day program of Sorosis yesterday afternoon, when the art committee of the women's club presented numbers.

In the absence of Miss Dorothy Rothermel, art chairman, Mrs. Harry Williams, Jr., introduced the speaker, Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, of the Moore School of Design for Women, Philadelphia. Mrs. Hoffman, in speaking of color, stated that nothing offers more appeal than color. "It plays a more important part in our life than we realize." The period prior to the World War was mentioned as the "gray era," with a great reaction being noted after the conflict, gaudy colors then being the choice.

"Business men and magazine publishers recognize the importance of color; they realize the emotional appeal, and know that color says many things that cannot otherwise be said." Mrs. Hoffman then gave some time to a technical discussion of colors.

An art exhibit, in which several club members participated, was most interesting.

Mrs. Gladys Hagar pleased with two groups of vocal numbers, Mrs. Harry Friedrich accompanying. Refreshments concluded the afternoon's enjoyment.

and which is the master. All the guests are excited and immediately people want reservations at the Inn. Then, when they need the two Englishmen most, they find that they have disappeared; so Waldo (John Warren) and Bill impersonate them. Of course the real Englishmen return and complicate matters. Finally, however, everything is satisfactorily explained.

The wit of Warren, the health lesson of Olive Ordway, Mary Watson, and Mr. Skinner, Charlotte Straus, endeavoring to get her daughter, Dora Mae, Betty Somers, a titled English admirer made the farce a rousing success.

313 MILL STREET, BRISTOL

"If these three lights are retained the future is not as dark as it appears to be."

Dr. Morgan was introduced by the toastmaster, Dr. John J. Hargrave, who served as toastmaster for the occasion.

Among the 175 fathers and sons gathered for the event were several members of the clergy, representing Bristol churches, these guests of honor being: Rev. J. Carpenter Zook, Bristol Methodist Church; Rev. George E. Boswell, St. James' Episcopal Church; Rev. Howard L. Zepp, First Baptist Church; Rev. Andrew G. Solla, Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour; the pastor of the hostess church, the Rev. James R. Galley, was the fifth Bristol pastor attending.

Another speaker of the evening, eagerly listened to by the boys and their dads, was Carl deGanahl, president of Fleetwings, Inc. His subject was "Modern Aeronautics." Speaking of the thrill of flying, Mr. deGanahl reminded that the thrill is not the sensation of speed, inasmuch as travel by plane does not feel as fast to the passenger as travel by automobile. "And it is not the sensation of doing something unusual, as in reality the plane flies itself. But the thrill of flying is two-fold: that speed is actually accomplished; and the great beauty of flying above the clouds, where the glow of the sun and reflections on them are seen from different angles. The full beauty of the earth beneath is seen from a different point of view."

Mr. deGanahl spoke of the great necessity for development of aeronautics in the United States, because even though this country has led in that phase of endeavor for many years, we are now far down the list. "It is a great challenge for our protection," he reminded.

Adrian Bustraan led in the opening group song, "America" in the closing number, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and other selections during the evening. The invocation was by the Rev. Solla, and the Rev. Boswell pronounced the benediction.

A quartet composed of Messrs. C. Melvin Johnson, Frank Parr, Russell A. Johnson and J. Harry Smith, pleased with the following selections: "A Prayer of Thanksgiving" (Kremer); "Winter Song" (Bullard); "Stout-Hearted Men" (Romberg); "Keep On Hopin'" (Maxwell).
